

Intergenerational mediation

Resolve family disputes involving siblings, grandparents, parents and children,
with the help of an independent mediator.

We can help with a variety of issues, including:

- Disagreements over living arrangements
- Care for elderly parents
- Breakdown in communication
- Aggressive or authoritarian behaviour on either side

Free

Restores communication

Confidential

How does it work?

Our mediators will initially meet with each family member separately, to find out more about the issues. They will not take sides or tell you what to do. If you both agree, we will set up a joint meeting at which the mediators will set ground rules, and help you work together towards a resolution that suits everyone.

Our clients say:

*"Everything is going well since the mediation.
It really helped [my son and I] coming together and working as a unit.
Our communication is better, we're talking without shouting.
And he's coming home earlier."*

Who are we?

Wandsworth Mediation Service is a charity supporting neighbours, families and communities in conflict. Set up in 2004, we help people in many different ways including mediation, conflict coaching and community workshops, together with peer mediation and training courses in schools and local organisations.
